CERTIFICATE OF A K M'CLURE

CHAMBERSBURG May 17 1864

ROBERT BLACK Esq —Dear Sir I have thoroughly tested the Tread power in running all kinds of Machinery about the Barn and I have had the most approved Lever-powers tried at my Barn also and I unhesitatingly recommend the Tread power I run all my machinery—thresher and cleaner corn sheller, chopping mill fodder cutter and circular saw with a two horse Tread power and the power is ample and two horses can give the same if not greater power than four can with the lever-power, and the labor is no more severe on the horses In short, I regard the Tread power, as having every advantage over the Lever power and it must soon be universally adopted by farmers

Very Respectfully, yours, &c,
A K M'CLURE

EVENING PRAYER

I come to thee to night
In my lone closet where no eye can see
And dare to crave an interview with thee—
Father of love and light

Softly the moonbeams shine
On the still branches of the shadowy trees
While all sweet sounds of evening on the breeze
Steal through the slumbering vine

Thou gav'st the calm repose
That rests on all—the air the birds the flower,
The human spirit in its weary hour—
Now at the bright day's close

'Tis Nature's time for prayer
The silent praises of the glorious sky,
And the earth's orisons so profound and high
To heaven their breathings bear

With them my soul would bend
In humble reverence at thy holy throne
Trusting the merits of thy Son alone
Thy sceptre to extend

If I this day have striven
With thy blest Spirit or have bowed the knee
To aught of earth in weak idolatry
I pray to be forgiven

If in my heart has been
An unforgiving thought or word or look
Though deep the malice which I scarce could brook
Wash me from the dark sin

If I have turned away
From grief or suffering which I might relieve Careless the cup of water e'en to give,
Forgive me Lord I pray

And teach me how to feel
My sinful wanderings with a deeper smart,
And more of mercy than of grace impart
My sinfulness to heal

Father my soul would be
Pure as the drops of eve's unsullied dew
And as the stars whose nightly course is true,
So would I be to thee

Not for myself alone
Would I these blessings of thy love implore
But for each penitent the wide earth o'er
Whom thou hast called thine own

And for my heart's best friends
Whose steadfast kindness o'er my painful years
Has watched to soothe affliction's grief and tears
My warmest prayer ascends

Should o'er their path decline
The light of gladness or of hope or health
Be thou their solace and their joy and wealth
As they have long been mine

And now O Father take
The heart I cast with humble faith on thee
And cleanse its depths from each impurity,
For my Redeemer's sake

Old Things

Give me the old songs, those exquisite bursts of melody which thrilled the lyres of the inspired poets and minstrels of long ago Every note has borne upon the air a tale of joy and rapture—of sorrow and sadness! They tell of days gone by, and time hath given them a voice which speaks to us of those who once breathed these melodies—of what they now are, and what we soon shall be My heart loves melodies, may they be mine to hear till life shall end, and as I launch my boat upon the sea of eternity may their echoes be wafted to my ear to cheer me on my passage from the scenes of earth and earthland!

Give me the old paths where we have wandered and culled the flowers of love and friendship in the days of Auld Lang Syne, sweeter, far, the bells whose echoes have answered to our voices whose turf is not a stranger to our footstep, and whose rills have in childhood's days reflected back our forms and those of our merry play fellows, from whom we have parted, and meet no more in the old nooks we loved so well

Give me the old house upon whose stairs we seem to hear light footsteps, and under whose porch a merry laugh seems to mingle with the winds that whistle through old trees beneath whose branches lie the graves of those who once trod the halls and made the chambers ring with glee And O! above all give me the old friends—hearts bound to mine in life's sunshiny hours, with a link so strong that all storms of earth might not break it asunder, spirits congenial whose hearts through life have throbbed in unison with our own O when death shall still this heart, I would not ask for aught more sacred to hallow my dust, than a tear of an old friend May my funeral dirge be chanted by the old friends I loved so fondly, who have not yet passed away to the spirit's bright home!

A Touch of Nature

A car full of passengers passed over the Western railroad in which a simple but touching scene occurred, worthy of record One of the passengers was a woman, carrying in her arms a child, who annoyed every one by its petulance and crying Mile after mile the passengers bore the infliction of its noise, which rather increased than diminished, until, at last, it became furious, and the passengers nearly so There were open complaints, and one man shouted, "Take the child out" The train stopped at a station, and an old gentleman arose and made the simple statement that the father of the child had died recently, away from home, that the mother had been on a visit to her friends and had died while on the visit, that her dead body was on board the train, and that the child was in the arms of a stranger to it It was enough There was a tear in nearly every eye, and all were melted into pity and patience—All selfishness was lost in thinking of the desolation of the poor little wanderer, who would have found a warm welcome in hands that a moment before, would almost have visited it with a blow

☞'You can't do that again," said the pig to the boy who had cut off his tail

'Too Much Ditto'

In a small village in New England lived an old chap who, though quite wealthy, did not possess a good education, as also did not his wife He purchased much of his household goods at a dry goods and grocery store in the village and at the close of the year the bill was presented for payment On one occasion, in looking it over, he observed that the word 'ditto' occurred frequently On reaching home, he said to his wife

'What have you been doing with so much ditto this year?' showing her how it stood on the bill 'I haven't bought any, and what have you been doing with so much?'

'I haven't had a bit" she replied, decidedly

'You must have had it' he returned, for G always dealt honestly by me, and here it is on the bill, you can see for yourself'

'I don't care if it is, I haven't had any, and G has cheated you, I always said he would

'Well" he replied, "then I must see about it So he trudged back to the store 'Look here, G, what do you mean by charging me with so much ditto? I haven't had any and my wife says she hasn't

G bit his lips and politely explained how it was

When the old gentleman returned home his wife inquired if he had found out about the 'ditto' 'Yes" was the reply, 'I have found out that I was a great fool, and that you was a ditto'

Selling at Half Price

A shopkeeper in a small town one day marked the handkerchiefs in his window with the tempting words, 'selling off at half price" Shortly after, a lady who had traded with him before entered the establishment, and having looked at the handkerchiefs inquired the price

'Fifty cents apiece,' replied the shopkeeper

"Very well' replied the lady, "you may do me up a dozen

The handkerchiefs were cut off and delivered to the lady, who gave the shopkeeper a three dollar bill

'Beg your pardon, madam but—but—I told you the handkerchiefs were fifty cents apiece, that is six dollars per dozen'

'To be sure, I understand as much arithmetic as that, six dollars is the price, half of six is three—that is half price I think they are cheap enough, good day sir'

The lady shut the door The shopkeeper opened his eyes For five minutes he stood still as a stump gazing vacantly at the window, biting his lips and looking very red, he quietly removed the card pinned to the handkerchiefs, and resolved to announce no more goods as selling at half price

Anecdote

We have a friend who is a somewhat practical joker, residing near the city — Some time ago he had a visit from Professor Wingate who is a keen trout fisherman Noticing a pond, the professor inquired—

'Can you fish for trout in that pond?'

"Oh! yes as well as not

'Possible! where's your rod?"

"I have none I'm no fisherman But if you want to try I'll get fishing tackle, and you may try your hand at it"

Early the next morning the Professor went to the pond, and whipped it all around and finally waded in up to his waist and threw his flies most skillfully but never raised a fin As the sun grew tolerably hot he turned to his friend who lay under a tree, solacing himself with a book and a cigar and exclaimed—

I don't believe there is a trout in your pond

'I don't know that there is

'Why you told me there was"

'Oh! no, said our joker, lighting a fresh cigar, 'you asked me if you could fish for trout here and I said you could as well as not I've seen folks do it often but I never knew of one being caught here'

A SNEEZING HEAD —The manager of the Berlin theatre got up a drama in which a human head was to be offered to a tyrant In order to produce as much effect as possible, he resolved to use a human head — On the stage was placed a table covered with a cloth, on the table was a basin, and an actor concealed under the cloth, poked up his head through a hole in the table, so as to seem to be placed in the basin The effect was prodigious, the audience applauded and trembled Unluckily a wag, who had been strolling about the stage, had sprinkled a spoonful of sneezing powder on the basin, and just as the tyrant had finished his address to the severed head of his enemy, the head replied by a hearty fit of sneezing, changing the audience "from grave to gay' with remarkable expedition

WANTED—A substitute to stay here in my place He must be thirty years old, have a good moral character, A 1 digestive powers, and not addicted to writing poetry To such an one all the advantages of a strict retirement, army rations and unmitigated watchfulness to prevent them from getting lost are offered for an indefinite period Address me at block I, Room 12, Johnson's Island, Military prison, at any time for the next three years enclosing half a dozen postage stamps

AZA HARTZ

☞There is nothing which so surely takes all the heart and strength and nobleness of character out of a man as the habit of doing from morning till night just what he likes, and doing it because he likes to do it

Moorish Legend

The Moors tell a story about the ravens, I heard it from Sir John Drummond Hay who enjoined me to make a little tale of it The Moors say that the ravens when they first come out of the eggs are white and they relate in a comical manner how horrified the paternal raven was when the young one crept out, and he saw it was white —

'Who is this?' cried the little raven's father, inspecting his own black plumage, not a white feather was to be seen, and yet the young one was white! He then looked at the mother, not a white feather was visible about her either, so he requested an explanation from her

'I don't understand it,' she said 'but in a little while doubtless the right ones will come out"

"I will fly away from here,' he cried, "away!' and he did fly away

The mother remained with the little one The father was as angry as he could be but after he had flown about for some time he began to think — Perhaps I have not seen aright, I will go back and look again!' and he went back, he found the little one become gray 'So then it is not white?' he exclaimed, 'but still it can not be called black, neither its mother nor I are of this color And he flew away again

But once more he returned, and then the young one had turned black 'Only give time and the right will appear" This is the moral, and the father stuck to it afterwards Such is the story of the ravens

A Budget of Truths

The London Punch, although it views the matter in a jocose light, tells some home truth in summing up some of the "sweet uses of adversity" This is the catalogue

You wear out your old clothes
You are not troubled with visitors
You are exonerated from making calls
Bores do not bore you
Spongers do not haunt your table
Tax gatherers hurry past your door
Itinerant bands do not play opposite your window
You avoid the nuisance of serving on juries
No one thinks of presenting you with a testimonial
No tradesman irritates by asking, "Is there any other little article you wish to day, sir?
Impostors know it's no use to bleed you
You practice temperance
You swallow infinitely less poison than others
Flatterers do not shoot their rubbish in to your ears
You are saved many a debt, many a deception many a headache
And lastly, if you happen to have a true friend in the world, you are sure, in a very short time, to know it

I Don't Dance

A plain, unlettered man, from the back country, in the State of Alabama, came up to Tuscaloosa, and on the Sabbath went to church He selected a seat in a convenient slip, and awaited patiently the assembling of the congregation The services commenced Presently, the music of a full toned organ burst upon his astonished ear, he had never heard one before At the same time, the gentleman who owned the slip came up the aisle, with his wife leaning upon his arm As he approached the door of the slip he motioned the stranger to give place to the lady The movement he did not comprehend, and from the situation of the gentleman and lady, associated as it was, in his mind, with the music, he immediately concluded that a cotillion or French contra dance, or some other dance was intended Rising partly from his seat, he said to him 'Excuse me, sir—excuse me, if you please I don't dance''

Singular Anecdote

There was a young woman left in the care of a house her master and mistress being in the country One night on going to bed, when she was undressing herself she looked into the glass and said —'How handsome I look in my night cap'' When she arose in the morning she found the house was robbed She was taken into custody on suspicion of being concerned in the robbery was tried and acquitted Some time afterwards, as she was walking in company with a female friend, a man passing her said —"How handsome I look in my night cap' The expression so forcibly struck her mind that he was the man who robbed the house, she seized hold of him with the utmost intrepidity, and held him fast, assisted by her companion, till he was taken into custody, at which time he confessed he was under the bed He heard her use the expression previously to his robbing the house and he suffered accordingly

THE WRONG HOUSE —"Madam," said a polite traveller to a testy old landlady, "if I see proper to help myself to this milk is there any impropriety in it?" "I do not know what you mean, but if you mean to insinuate that there is anything nasty in that milk, I'll give you to understand you've struck the wrong house There ain't the first hair in it, for as soon as Dorothy Ann told me that the cat was drowned in the milk, I went right straight and strained it over"

☞"Why does the operation of hanging kill a man?" inquired Dr Whately A physiologist replied —"Because inspiration is checked circulation stopped, and blood suffuses and congests the brain" "Bosh," replied his Grace "It is because the rope is not long enough to let his feet touch the ground"

Idlers That Might be Set to work

In the search after industrial power and economy of human strength, it is wonderful that dogs are left so wholly unemployed in America Their uses, in other countries, are thus described in a letter from Brussels

"Dogs of almost every breed, are taught to work by the Germans It looks odd enough, I assure you to see these sagacious animals, of all descriptions from the thick headed bull dog, and the mild, intelligent Newfoundland, down to the candle leg half hound and snappish rat terrier, all fully and profitably employed, instead of lazing away their time as they do in the United States The majority of dogs, however are of the larger kind, and it is quite amusing to see their willingness to work, and the various ways in which they are employed No person is presumed to use a wheelbarrow without a dog to draw the load and in vehicles of this kind we saw loads of milk, wood, butter, cabbage, bricks, bread mortar, and hot coffee, and refreshments for travellers All the labor that the person behind had to perform was to act as a steersman, while the dog would draw the load and instantly stop when so ordered We saw a few cases where the teamsters had become intoxicated and fallen asleep, and the teams had turned around to watch them"

The Valley of Jehoshaphat

The efforts that the Jews have made, and the sufferings, losses and humiliations they have borne, for the purpose of obtaining sepulture in the Valley of Jehoshaphat, form a singular feature in human history No other nation has thus struggled, not to live in their own land, but to be suffered to lay their dust therein

Many descriptions have been made of this marvellous place, but I confess none of them ever afforded me a notion of its actual appearance Wandering alone past the fountain of Siloam, and by the arid Kedron, it suddenly opened on me a perfect mountain of graves—a hillside paved with sepulchral slabs Each stone is small, so small as to lead to the conclusion that the bodies must be buried perpendicularly At all events, if the multitudes there interred were simultaneously to arise they would be in a crowd so dense and compact as it would be enormous Short Hebrew inscriptions (some evidently of great age) are on all stones, and these are laid together with intervals only of a few inches, as in oldest church yards The slabs are almost on the level of the ground, and of equal height, so that it is literally one large pavement of death—an appalling, and almost an overwhelming sight —Fraser's Mag

Bon Mot

A lady, very fond of medicating her friends, and even her dependents, insisted on one of the former, who had a severe cough, taking two of her small pills as an effectual cure The patient received the medicine politely, and as soon as she was out of sight, threw the physic to the dogs" Next day, on calling, the fair doctress, in great alarm, expressed an earnest hope that he had not swallowed the pills He, of course, assured her that he had "Oh, heavens!' she exclaimed, "how unfortunate! they were of a sort intended for —'s dog' 'Never mind," rejoined the sufferer, 'the only inconvenience I have experienced is that I have barked ever since"

A CONTEMPTIBLE FELLOW —A Western editor, whose wife was absent at the East, was deprived of his usual doughnuts He therefore advertised that he would send his paper one year to the lady who sent him the best peck of home doughnuts, and would also mention her name in large type He had two barrels full furnished, and the mean fellow, not content with this speculation, announced that none of the samples came up to his home standard, and advised the ladies to try again in a few months

SAVE UP SOMETHING —It unfortunately happens that as no man believes he is likely to die soon, so every one is much disposed to defer the consideration of what ought to be done at once The determination to lay by often creates the power to lay by, and the first effort is the most difficult Let it always be remembered that in putting by something for a rainy day, a man purchases a certain amount of mental tranquility, and thus he may actually extend his life by providing against the results of his death

☞As the season of receipes is approaching, we give the following How to calumniate If your enemy be a man of retired and studious habits, hint that he has gone mad, if you see him alone at church or theatre, report that he is separated from his wife, and in any case declare he drinks, he can't disprove it If he drinks water in public, he may take stronger liquors at home If he walks straight in the street, he may reel in the parlor Who can say?

☞A Methodist and a Quaker having stopped at a public house, agreed to sleep in the same bed The Methodist knelt down, prayed fervently, and confessed a long catalogue of sins After he arose the Quaker observed —"Really, friend, if thou art as bad as thou sayest thou art, I think I dare not sleep with thee"

☞A famous musician who had made his fortune by marriage, being requested to sing in company, "Permit me," said he, "to imitate the nightingale, who never sings after he has made his nest'

BEEF A LA MOWED —Oxen turned out to pasture after the haymaking season

Served Him Right

A gentleman just arrived from Hagerstown yesterday, furnished our reporter with an item going to show the spirit and temper of the invading rebels When the rebel horde appeared in front of Hagerstown, one of its principal citizens undertook a measure to which he looked for the preservation of his property He farmed about two hundred acres of land His barns were full of grain, his pastures were dotted with sheep and cattle, and forty well fed swine were gathered in the rear of his corn cribs He was emphatically a man of plenty and of substance

When the rebels came he walked out to their lines with a damask linen napkin fixed to his walking cane The first rebel soldier he encountered he requested to show him to the commanding officer He was passed under guard to the object of his search

"General," said he, "I am a warm sympathizer with the South I heartily wish success to this invasion and to your forces My object in seeking you out is to ask that you and as many of your staff as will accept the invitation will make my house your headquarters during your stay here My house is yonder upon that hill," pointing to a fine old fashioned mansion, with modern additions with a long row of hay ricks in the back ground

"You sympathize with the south, did you say' queried the general

'Very earnestly, sir, and always have done so"

The rebel General beckoned to a sergeant who stood near him "Bring a musket for this man, said he, "and take him into the ranks'

The "sympathizer" opened wide his eyes, but stood mute with horror He stammered out at last, "Oh! I don't mean that, General I want to entertain you and your staff while you remain here, and to show you that I am your friend"

The rebel General contemptuously informed him that they interpreted sympathy only in its literal sense He had claimed to sympathize with them, and they intended to avail themselves of his good will — A string of wagons was at once trotted to the sympathizer's property, and in the same afternoon he was stripped of everything The rebels carried off all his cattle, sheep, hogs, and smaller live stock, removed all his hay and wheat crop, leaving his barns utterly empty The cavalry horses were turned into his growing oats, and his corn was cut for fodder for his stock while on the march The sympathizer was detained until all was done, and was then released with thanks for the sympathy he had manifested Many like him in Maryland are reaping the fruits of their sympathy — When men will take the suckers out of their pumps to prevent Union soldiers from drinking the water, their sympathy with the South deserves such recognition as that given to the friend of the rebel cause above referred to, who came to grief at Hagerstown —North American

THE CHICAGO NOMINATION BOLTED —Sam Medary, editor of the Columbus (Ohio) Crisis, and an influential leader of the Buckeye Democracy, says

"It is well known that General McClellan has not one spark of pretensions to the Presidency, except what he has made out of this war under Mr Lincoln He never held a civil office in his life Dennison brought him forward as a military man — Yet in three years, as a mere soldier, he rises to the demands of the Presidency to head a party which is for peace—a position requiring a statesman of enlarged views and a statesman's experience And for what? That a few men who have got his ear may get foreign missions and home positions at the expense of the peace of the country and the lives of their constituents This is paying too dear for such whistles, and for once we protest against it in behalf of our bleeding, ruined and distracted country"

SAD CASE OF POISONING —On Wednesday last, a child of five years of age, of Mr Joseph R Brown, of Montgomery township, Indiana county, was accidentally poisoned It appears that some strichnine had been left in a bureau drawer, within the child's reach having been there for some time previous The child got it and took the fatal dose which was almost immediately discovered by the mother, who administered several antidotes, but without avail, as the child died in half an hour Parents cannot be too cautious in regard to the storage of poisonous articles, and yet more than one half of the cases of accidental poisoning, both of children and adults, arise from the most culpable carelessness in this respect

IMMENSE FIRE IN ENGLAND —A fire almost unparalleled in extent in the history of England, recently broke out in Woolmer Forest and raged with fearful vehemence for more than a week The united efforts of over one thousand persons were required to subdue it The flames were distinctly visible for a circuit of twenty miles Huts and cottages were consumed, and a village narrowly escaped the spreading conflagration

FEARFUL PRICE FOR PEACHES —The exceedingly cold weather of January last almost exterminated the peach trees in the vicinity of St Louis and throughout a considerable district of country around The consequence has been a most decided failure of the crop, and not a peach has been seen in the market until within two days past On Saturday some very indifferent ones sold at one dollar a dozen —St Louis Rep.

What the Copperheads Have Done

They have embarrassed the national government at every step in the progress of the pending war

They have sympathized with the enemy arrayed in arms against us, and seeking the ruin of the republic and the humiliation of the free States

They have defended the conduct of the rebellious States, and charged the responsibility of the war wholly upon the anti slavery sentiment of the north

They have opposed every effort of the government to procure reinforcements for the army, fomenting popular disturbances to arrest the draft, and leading the people to believe that if they enlisted it would only be to aid in abolition war, conducted by blundering and incompetent Generals, and an equally untrustworthy War Department

They have augmented the national debt by artfully depreciating the national currency, so that the Government has been obliged to pay nearly three times as much for all its supplies as there was any occasion for

They have increased the burdens of the people by the same process, in order to make the war unpopular, and thus compel an ignoble peace

They have underrated every success of the Union arms in the field, and exaggerated every rebel success, however slight, they have systematically magnified all the perils and troubles of our armies, depreciated the abilities and achievements of every successful Union General and extolled every rebel leader, they have made much of imaginary dangers in our path, regularly exaggerated the forces of the rebels, at the same time that they have also underrated ours

They have assailed every general of our armies who was known to have his sympathies with us in this war, whether he were Democrat or Republican, and they have defended every general known to be of pro-slavery proclivities, whether successful or unsuccessful

They have proven by their actions that they would rather save slavery than the Union

They have defended every domestic traitor, however rank in his treason

And at Chicago they have formally declared in favor of a base and a cowardly surrender to the southern rebels

A YOUNG MAN MURDERED —Mr Edward Glatfelter, a young man of about 20 years of age, residing with his mother at Seven Valley in this county, recently went to Harper's Ferry to take charge of and bring home two horses from that place — Some days ago his mother received intelligence that on his return he was murdered, and his body plundered of all his money and valuables The murder was committed by five soldiers, three of whom, we understand, were arrested, the other two escaping —York Gazette

☞General Sheridan is pursuing a Fabian policy in the Shenandoah Valley, drawing the rebels as far northward as possible, and holding them there, while Grant pursues his operations around Richmond If Early retreats, our cavalry are immediately on his heels, picking up stragglers and other prisoners, capturing trains, and otherwise inflicting material losses on him. If he advances, Sheridan falls back to his lines without offering serious battle In such a game Early will be the losing party

THE EXEMPTION BY COMMUTATION — We have been shown a despatch from the office of the Provost Marshal General, at Washington, received here last evening, which states that Gen Fry has not yet decided that all persons who paid $300 commutation are exempt from draft under the late call for volunteers —Har Telegraph

☞There is not a word of cheer in the Chicago platform for the unequaled successes of Farragut and our tars We say unequaled All history shows but four or five victories of fleets against forts, and none such as this Is there nothing in this to arouse Copperhead blood?

CONFINED AT HARD LABOR —Major George E Shearer, formerly of Frederick, has been convicted and sentenced by court-martial to be confined at hard labor for a period of fifteen years, as a guerilla The President has approved the sentence, and Fort Delaware designated as the place of confinement

A HEAVY TAX —Under the new law requiring every small bunch of friction matches to be stamped after the 1st of September, a single manufacturing firm in this city will pay more than $1400 per day — It will require 145,000 one cent stamps for their use daily —Boston Herald

AGENCY OF THE

Dutch East-India Coffee Co.

DEPOT:
168 READE STREET, NEW YORK.

THE above Company are known all over the world as the owners of the Coffee Plantations of Java and Batavia in the Dutch East Indies, and are the largest monopolizers of Coffee on the Globe.

The undersigned (appointed their sole Agent in the United States and in the British Colonies) will have for sale three different kinds of Coffee, which, for regularity of grade and cheapness of price, will defy competition.

Our "BATAVIA COFFEE" never before introduced in this Country, but extensively used in the Armies and Navies of Europe and richly valued, will be put up at prices to reach all consumers, and our EXTRA JAVA will be the Magnum Bonum Coffee of the age.

We will have, for accommodation of Grocers, Families, and Government Contractors, samples [dry, and drawn] for testing.

Orders solicited. On receipt of cash, coffee promptly forwarded as directed.

Barlow's Indigo Blue.

DEALERS and Consumers of the above CELEBRATED WASH BLUE, will please take notice, that the LABELS are altered to read INDIGO BLUE, put up at

Alfred Wiltberger's Drug Store,
No. 233 North Second Street, Philadelphia.

The quality of this Blue will be the same in every respect.

It is warranted to color more water than twice the same quantity of Indigo, and to go much further than any other Wash Blue in the Market. It dissolves perfectly clear and does not settle on the clothes as most of the other makes do. One Box dissolved in a half pint of water, will make as good a Liquid Blue as any that is made, at one third the cost.

As it is retailed at the same price as the Imitations and Inferior Articles, housekeepers will find it very much to their advantage to ask for that put up at WILTBERGER'S.

☞All Blue put up after this date with BARLOW'S name on it is an IMITATION.

THE NEW LABEL DOES NOT REQUIRE A STAMP.

☞For Sale by Storekeepers generally.

French Breakfast and Dinner COFFEE.

OWING to the very high price of Coffee, and the great difficulty in procuring a good, uniform and reliable article, our customers have often expressed a wish that they could be supplied from first hands. It was the intention of the

to do a strictly Tea business, but as we have had some customers living at a distance that have relied upon us to supply them exclusively with Tea and Coffee, it being inconvenient for them to come to New York, The GREAT TEA AND COFFEE EMPORIUM of this country—and as our Tea Taster was possessed of information relating to a Coffee that could be furnished at a moderate price, and give universal satisfaction, and at the same time afford the retailer a handsome profit—we have been compelled to supply those parties. THIS COFFEE HAS BECOME SO POPULAR with our customers and their sales have increased to such an extent that we have been compelled to make large additions to our machinery, which will enable us to supply a few more customers with it. We will therefore send it to those who may order.

It is Fast Superseding all other Coffees.

This Coffee has been used for more than a century in Paris, and since its introduction into this country it has been in use by some of the leading French Restaurants here,—The Parisians are said to be the best judges of coffee; and the great favor in which it is held by them is the best recommendation that can be produced for its fine flavor and healthy effects upon the human system.

We put up but one grade of this Coffee, and that is of a quality that our customers have found from experience will give perfect satisfaction and meet all the demands of their trade. It is the lowest price that we can recommend.

We do all our business on the most extensive scale, buy by the cargo and sell at only two cents per pound profit.

We put up this Coffee in Barrels only, of 125 Pounds each. This method of putting it up saves from two to five cents per pound to the consumer, and by its being in a large quantity it retains its fine flavor much longer in this form than in any other. We send with each barrel Show-Cards, Circulars and Posters, to assist the dealer to introduce it to his customers. We hope our customers will take pains to have them well posted up and distributed, as it will be to their advantage to do so.

This Coffee we warrant to give perfect satisfaction, and if it does not please, the purchaser has the privilege of returning the whole or any part of it within 60 days, and having his money refunded together with all the expenses of transportation both ways.

We issue a Price Circular of our TEAS and COFFEES, which we are glad to send free to all who wish it. Consumers of Coffee should inquire for the FRENCH BREAKFAST AND DINNER COFFEE and be sure that it was purchased of the Letter from Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, in 1861.

I am most happy to speak in the very highest terms of the "UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER." The hardest part of "washing day" work is in my opinion, the wringing; and the inventor of this machine may have the satisfaction of feeling that he has changed one of the most toilsome parts of woman's work into a very attractive amusement. The laundress looks upon it as a great blessing. I look upon it as among the most useful articles in the house.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

IT is well known to the medical profession that Iron is the Vital Principle or Life Element of the blood. This is derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is not properly digested, or if, from any cause what ever, the necessary quantity of iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system suffers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up the lungs, will stupefy the brain, will obstruct the liver and will send its disease-producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will suffer in whatever organ may be predisposed to disease.

The great value of

IRON AS A MEDICINE

is well known and acknowledged by all medical men. The difficulty has been to obtain such a preparation of it as will enter the circulation and assimilate at once with the blood. This point, says Dr. Hayes, Massachusetts State Chemist, has been attained in the Peruvian Syrup, by combination in a way before unknown.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP
is a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron. A new discovery in Medicine, that strikes at the Root of Disease by supplying the blood with its Vital Principle or Life Element—Iron.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever and Ague, Loss of Energy, Low Spirits.

Infuses strength, vigor, and new life into the system, and build up an "Iron Constitution."

SOLIDIFIED DENTAL CREAM.

FOR CLEANSING, WHITENING AND PRESERVING THE TEETH!

THIS article is prepared with the greatest care upon scientific principles, and warranted not to contain anything in the slightest degree deleterious to the teeth or gums. Some of our most eminent Dental Surgeons have given their sanction to, and cheerfully recommend it as a preparation of superior qualities for cleansing, whitening and preserving the TEETH. It cleans them readily, rendering them beautifully white and pearly, without the slightest injury to the enamel. It is healing to the gums where they are ulcerated and sore. It is also an excellent disinfector for old decayed teeth, which are often exceedingly offensive. It gives a rich and creamy taste to the mouth, cleansing it thoroughly, and imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath.

Prepared only by A. HAWLEY & CO., N. W. Cor. 10th, and Lombard Sts., Philadelphia.

And sold by all Druggists. Price 25 cents

TESTIMONIALS.

The following opinion of Dr. White, as to the high esteem in which he holds the Dental Cream, must be sufficient evidence of its value; to quote other testimonials in detail is needless, contenting ourselves by simply giving the names and addresses of persons who speak of its excellency for the teeth.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15, 1863.

Having carefully examined A. Hawley's "Solidified Dental Cream," I hereby cheerfully recommend it to the public generally.—It is an excellent preparation for cleansing and preserving the teeth, and can be used by all persons with the utmost confidence, as its properties are perfectly harmless. Besides preserving the teeth, it promotes a healthy action to the gums, and imparts a pleasantness to the breath.

The One Thing Needful.

PHYSICIANS, with a unanimity that is truly remarkable, now recommend to their patients the use of Dr. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, as a preventive against all sorts of weakness. They give tone to the system, by purifying the blood, and invigorating the digestive apparatus. Mothers who are nursing, and old men find them invaluable.—They should be introduced into our Hospitals, and if they were more generally used among our soldiers, all camp diseases would disappear. These Bitters have been before the public over fifteen years, and their popularity is still on the increase. Their reputation is known in every country upon the globe, and in fact they are more universally used than all others. We do not urge any one to take these Bitters, who imagine that no benefit will be derived therefrom, but this we do know, that those who have used them, would not be without them for the world. U. S. 7-30 Loan.

THE Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes payable three years from Aug 15th, 1864, with semi annual interest at the rate of seven and three tenths per cent per annum,—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity into six per cent gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date as the Government may elect —They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5 000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit

Parties depositing twenty five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one quarter of one per cent, which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN

It is a National Savings Bank, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U S Notes considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country and it cannot pay in anything better for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts

Convertible into a Six per cent 5 20 Gold Bond

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent per annum for the current rate for 5 20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent premium and before the war the premium on six per cent U S stocks was over twenty per cent It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent per annum

Its exemption from State or Municipal Taxation

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent per annum according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the government In all other forms of indebtedness the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies or separate communities, only is pledged for payment while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits The party depositing must endorse upon the original certificate the denomination of notes required and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department

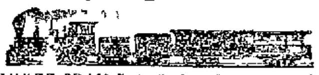

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States at Washington the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries and by the

and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money and all respectable Banks and Bankers throughout the country will give further information and afford every facility to subscribers

THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

The Fruits of an Armistice

If an armistice is made we must recall our armies and navy, so that by so doing we shall achieve the following brilliant results

We abandon Baltimore Norfolk, New Orleans, Alexandria Newbern, Port Royal Pensacola all the forts along the coast, and every position there occupied by our forces

We thus give up Virginia, Maryland North and South Carolina Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Louisiana

We thereby render useless the costly expeditions under Butler, Burnside, Dupont, Farragut, etc

We raise the blockade which we have perfected at such an immense expenditure of blood and treasure, we enable the South to export all her cotton and tobacco to furnish herself with as much supplies from abroad as she may need, and to import a whole new iron clad navy from England and France as well as money to carry on the war for an indefinite period

We abandon the valley of the Mississippi giving up Vicksburg Memphis and St Louis, and surrendering to the enemy the States of Tennessee, Arkansas Kentucky and Missouri, enabling the enemy to advance their armies to the frontiers of Illinois Indiana and Ohio

We make the southern boundary of Pennsylvania the boundary of the United States and leave our national capital surrounded by rebel territory

We abandon to the tender mercies of the rebels all the Southern Union families who have embraced our cause in the conquered districts and have taken the oath of allegiance so that they will have to abandon their homes and lose all their possessions

We, in fact, give the rebels more ground than they have had at any period of the war, a better beginning for a new contest, and a prestige which it would be impossible to destroy

Chambersburg

An exchange says, "We spent an hour hour among the ruins of this once beautiful town The blackened walls of more than two hundred and fifty houses stand still to remind the passer by of the infamous deeds committed by the rebel fiends Here and there preparations are being made to reconstruct kitchens and backbuildings for winter use, but the beautiful mansions which lately adorned the streets will not be rebuilt until the rebel hordes are whipped and peace is restored The dwellings that escaped the fire are crowded many of them containing two or three families, while the parlors have been converted into store rooms A number of weather boarded shanties have been erected in the 'burnt district,' and business of various kinds resumed on a small scale Many former residents of the place have left to return no more The County offices are in the upper story of an engine house There is but a single hotel of any consequence in the place, but bar rooms have been opened on the sites of most of the burnt inns The citizens complain bitterly of the high prices of produce of every description In many instances they are higher than in the city—owing to the supply being somewhat limited

A splendid office has been fitted up in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church by McClure and Stoner, of the Franklin Repository They are driving a brisk business

☞General Hooker some days since when called on by a large concourse of citizens who were celebrating the fall of Atlanta at Watertown New York, said "I am a fighting man, and not a speechmaker, but I have this to say Politicians may talk to you about the cause of the war, but I say put down the rebellion, and then, if you choose, inquire into the cause of it—But first put down the insurgents—first whip them, and then talk about the cause, if you have nothing else to engage your attention "

This is the language of prudence and patriotism, and applies to every grumbler no matter what he may choose to consider the cause of his complainings The Administration of Mr Lincoln received the war as a legacy from that corrupt and debased party which is now trying to crush the Government, and drive it into surrender of its existence It has prosecuted it so near to a termination that any intelligent man must be able to see the end of it in the near future, and all who fail now to rally to the support of that Administration, and that promptly are simply affording aid and comfort to its enemies It is as necessary for the preservation of the Government, that we should win this political battle, as it was for Sherman to take Atlanta, or as it is for Grant to capture Richmond and drive the rebel army out of Virginia, and to win it we must work, regardless of what seems to be the dissensions of our opponents To arms, then, brave men of the Union, and win the fight

ARREST OF A MARYLANDER —The Chambersburg Repository says a man named Eli Smith, from Funkstown, Md, was arrested in this place week before last—Smith, on coming to town and reviewing the destruction around him, remarked in presence of some of our citizens, that it was a great pity the rebels did not burn the entire town He also acknowledged that he was a rebel He was taken before Provost Marshal McGowan, and sufficient testimony being adduced he was sent to jail, and afterwards to Fort Mifflin

☞General Grant has issued an order that all within his lines in front of Petersburg, who refuse to take the oath of allegiance to the Government of the United States, shall be sent within the lines of the enemy This is as it should be Any person who cannot swear allegiance to the Government which protects him, should not receive the benefit of its care The order also prohibits the sale of provisions to those who do not take the oath required—Our lines are reported to be strengthened at the point where Hancock made his successful movement on Thursday last and from whence the Rebels ineffectually attempted to drive him on Friday The enemy feel too weak to make a general attack on any point

☞Though the total vote in Maine is ten thousand less than last year, the Union majority will be about eighteen thousand Every county in the State was carried by the Union party

Our Terms

From the 1st day of August, 1864, our terms of subscription will be TWO DOLLARS if paid in advance, and TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not so paid These terms have been agreed upon by all the publishers in this place, and will be strictly adhered to This is but a slight advance upon old rates, and by no means in proportion to the great advance in labor, and all other kinds of printing material

An Apprentice

To the Printing business will be received at this office Immediate application is desired

WOOD.

We need this article very much just now, and would be obliged to those of our patrons who desire to furnish it to us, to do so as soon as they can

Good Appointments

We are pleased to learn that Capt Geo W Frederick, has been chosen Lieut Col of the 209th Regiment, P V

The Regiment has been mustered in, and ordered to City Point, Va Our boys, therefore, may see service ere long

Dr Wm Taylor, of this place has been appointed Surgeon of the 212th Reg P V

☞A private letter from Annapolis, Md, dated September 9 names the following members of Co B, 138th P V, as in the hospital there John Henning James Tate Oliver P Plank, Henry L Hersh and Wm Strasbaugh

Public Schools

A change has been made in the Teachers of the Public Schools of Gettysburg by the Directors Mr Robert Lyttle late teacher of No 4, to take charge of No 1, in place of Lieut Col Frederick, resigned Mr Robert I McClean to take charge of No 2, in room of Mr Lyttle, promoted They are both good appointments

Union Meetings

Very large and enthusiastic Union meetings were held last week at Littlestown, Petersburg and Fairfield Gen KOONTZ, our candidate for Congress, delivered very able addresses at each He has become quite a favorite, from his gentlemanly deportment and eloquent addresses We have not received the particulars of the different organizations of the meetings—but may probably for our next issue

☞The Compiler has some extracts from the Sentinel of between two and three years ago, speaking of some military action of Gen McClellan, which we, with many others, at the time approved, as WE always have, contrary to Copperhead rule and action, who now cannot rejoice at the victories of our army over the Rebels WE always have rejoiced in victories over Rebellion—the Copperheads never! The shaft has fallen short of us—and flies back on the Compiler

☞The Copperheads call President Lincoln "a tyrant" because he declares himself determined to enforce the draft in September If he had deferred it until after the election they would have called him a "coward" Their rage is because he has given the thoughtful people such a striking proof of the sterling patriotic integrity of his character

Compensation to Sufferers on the Border

It is greatly to be regretted that the Legislature of the State adjourned without making proper provision for the relief of those in the Border Counties who have suffered from the movements of the public enemy

This should not have been Our State can afford to be generous, and cannot afford to be unjust to her suffering citizens, who have been despoiled without fault of themselves, and only because they live near the dividing line We have made inquiry as to this strange result, and are satisfied that the cause of our Border Counties was greatly weakened in the Legislature by the character of their Representatives, all of whom were Copperheads and many were of the most malignant type It will be remembered that not one of the Counties claiming aid, neither Adams, nor Franklin, nor Fulton, nor Bedford, nor Cumberland, nor York was represented by persons in sympathy with the cause of the Union Most of these Representatives resisted every measure of the General and State Administration to sustain the credit and flag of the country They even resisted, lately, the bill for the organization of a State Guard, to protect us of the Border from invasion, lest these troops might hurt Rebellion—They were amongst the most conspicuous in turning every possible point to the advantage of the Copperheads, and it is not surprising that they by their course created a feeling of hostility which made Union men suspicious of measures pressed by them, either of a local or general character, and indisposed to sustain them, lest they should become engines of evil to the Union cause

We do not justify members who support or oppose measures from such considerations, but it is useless to deny that such causes have and always will, influence legislation Our Border people must remember that they have some duties to perform if they would disarm this Opposition—And one is to show their Unionism by sending to the Legislature men who are in sympathy with, and attached to the Union cause and will co operate with the National and State Administration in needful measures for the public good They can not safely longer send solid Copperhead delegations

Gen William H Koontz

The Union candidate for Congress spent several days last week in this County and made a most favorable impression He addressed the three meetings announced, (Littlestown, Petersburg and Fairfield) in speeches, clear, argumentative, eloquent, and conclusive He is a gentleman of education character and ability, and will represent this Congressional District with credit to it and honor to himself There is no reasonable doubt of his election—The people understand that Mr COFFROTH voted against every measure calculated to strengthen the Government, was in open alliance with the Disunion Peace wing of the Democratic party, and resisted the necessary measures of the Administration at every point

The Soldiers will not forget his opposition to their Homestead bill and his refusal to vote for bills to raise money to pay them Judging from his votes in Congress, he did not care which Army was victorious

Copperhead Hostility to Soldiers

While the Copperheads in the Legislature and at home were preparing to deny the soldier the right to vote, their brothers in Congress were denying to him legislation intended to do him good and be of permanent use to the country

On the 12th of May, after a struggle, the House of Representatives passed a bill to secure to persons in the military and naval service of the United States homesteads from confiscated estates in insurrectionary districts It gave 80 acres to each person who has served, or may serve, honorably for two years, or been discharged by reason of wounds or disease, and 40 acres to those who have rendered, or shall render any service, as soldiers, sailors or laborers—the entries to be made on lands condemned under the Confiscation act of July 17 1862 and its amendments and under the internal revenue law and the direct tax law in insurrectionary districts

The effect would be to give a homestead to the soldiers on the lands forfeited by the Traitors to the Government, and condemned as provided by law

The bill passed the House on the 12th of last May, by a vote of yeas 76, nays 65 The 76 yeas were all Union men Of the 65 nays, all were Copperheads, except J B Blair, Brown and Whaley, of W Virginia, and Thomas, of Maryland This is one of the votes which Mr COFFROTH did not dodge He voted nay, and thus recorded himself on the side of the Rebels, and against the brave men of the Union armies now engaged in wresting this soil from the occupation of the common enemies of Liberty, and the Union

☞We infer from Mr COFFROTH's remark about people "being compelled to go to Canada or elsewhere, to avoid the draft," that he is aware some have left this County for that purpose This is true We have heard the number fixed at 250 We regret to know that there were so many cowards and sneaks in the County No doubt, Mr COFFROTH's regret is of another sort He regrets to lose their votes To a man they would have voted for him in preference to Gen KOONTZ, who is not acceptable to sympathizers with the Rebellion

More "Extra Pay"

We had hoped that we would not again be compelled to record so great an impropriety and wrong as Members of our Legislature voting themselves "Extra Pay" for ordinary services But we were mistaken The members of the late Legislature, at the extra session held a few weeks ago, voted themselves $300 compensation each, being $240 each, in excess of the allowance fixed by law, and making an aggregate expense to the State Treasury of about $30,000!

The extra session alluded to, was seventeen days long This includes the day of meeting, the day of adjournment and Sundays The legal pay is $3 per day for extra sessions They voted themselves at the rate of nearly $18 per day for the session They did not actually sit more than fifteen days—so that these gentlemen have coolly pocketed $20 per day for days actually spent on duty!

The proposition does not appear to have been opposed in either the House or Senate as it was passed without a call of the yeas and nays which any two members can demand All the members thus stand before the people as implicated in the improper and censurable act

We hardly expected that an Adams county representative would thus offend after the past warning given by the people, but Mr MARSHALL appears to be as deep in the mire as anybody else

We would like to see every man defeated for re election who participated in this outrage It is impossible to conceive of anything more vicious and corrupting than the habits of our legislators voting the money which belongs to the people from the State Treasury into their pockets in the way of "extra allowances" Every man involved in it should be indignantly repudiated as an unfaithful public servant

Copperhead Meeting

On Saturday evening last, the Copperheads of the Borough and vicinity held a meeting as the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution—at which addresses were made by L B Buehler Esq Hon A H Coffroth, and Wm G Stenger, Esq, of Chambersburg

It did not appear to occur to either of these gentlemen that theirs is hardly the party to claim peculiar devotion to the Constitution, since, for the last four years, they have been not only ready, but anxious to change it in many important particulars Even now their banners declare with their leader that "Union is the one condition of Peace"—as if they were willing to give up our Constitution and accept the Rebel (Montgomery) Constitution or make any other changes which were agreeable to the Rebels

The meeting was composed of both parties was held in the open air and of moderate size, not the roue er (to use the Compiler's language) reminding one of the monster gatherings of '44 The Union party formed a very large part of the assemblage, out of curiosity to hear our distinguished Representatives They DID hear him—but O my countrymen!

The speeches were in the usual style of Copperhead oratory It is not necessary to review either If they satisfied their friends we have no right to complain We are sure they failed to move the solid foundations of Truth Patriotism and Duty on which the Union men of Adams county stand

Losses in the Border States

Of the many loose statements made on Saturday evening last, by Mr COFFROTH, was one about compensation for losses, which is rather startling, because directly at variance with the facts He said that the bill introduced into Congress for the ascertainment and payment of losses sustained by the Border States by reason of army movements, was defeated in the House and that every Republican in it voted against the bill except Mr STEVENS

The truth is the bill, so far from being killed, passed the Union House of Representatives by a vote of 73 to 56 and is now pending in the Senate It is probable it will pass that body at the next session

In the House the bill was voted against by many prominent Copperheads—such as Ancona, Dawson, and Stiles, of Pa, Bliss, Johnson and GEO H PENDLETON, of O—the latter now the Copperhead candidate for the Vice Presidency Our loyal people have nothing to hope from Copperhead law makers

Mr COFFROTH must go to some other market, if he expects his false statements to pass current His attempts to glorify himself, and misrepresent his antagonist, will re act against himself

☞Both Mr COFFROTH and Mr STENGER, last Saturday evening, spoke of this "fruitless war," following the example of the Chicago Convention

The Rebels think differently of the achievements of our Armies, which, so far from having done "fruitless" things, have broken and destroyed the Rebellion in two thirds of the rebellious region and we now are penetrating the very citadel of its life Only Copperhead malignity could characterize such heroism, endurance, valor, and splendid courage as "fruitless," when it daily drives the enemy, whips him, overruns his country, and breaks his military power—which is the sole support of the Rebellion The country knows better, and that our Armies, in suppressing this Rebellion, will make future Rebellion impossible, and thus give us a Peace, lasting, honorable, and perpetual

McPherson's Political History of the Rebellion

We have received a copy of this valuable work, and find it to be of the highest merit The encomiums passed upon it by the Press, are fully deserved These endorsements come, we notice, as well from foe as friend—some of the most flattering notices being from McClellan papers

The N Y Tribune speaks of the book as a "treasure to every politician" The Philadelphia Press says the book "will rank among the most detailed and accurate Annals of the time" The Washington Chronicle pronounces it the most thorough work of the kind ever published The National Intelligencer closes an elaborate review of it with these highly complimentary words

The work shows throughout the marks of the most laborious and conscientious elaboration It leaves no topic untouched which has a bearing on the political legislative judicial executive and military aspects of the Great Rebellion which is still convulsing the land To all students of history to journalist to publicists and to intelligent readers of every class it will be an invaluable repository of facts and memoranda relating to the eventful times in which we live In no other work can they find the materials of history so faithfully compiled so copiously selected and so judiciously arranged in the logical order of topics the chronological order of events We should not omit to add that the volume is furnished with an admirable index which is as complete as it is minute thus facilitating a reference to the entire contents of the work

The N Y Journal of Commerce says it "reflects great credit upon Mr McPherson's ability industry judgment and impartiality As a work of reference it is by far the best that has yet been published on the subject of the existing war It well deserves the patronage of the public and a place in all good libraries The Index is prepared with uncommon skill

Many other like notices have welcomed the book all bearing tribute to its great usefulness and value

☞Mr Stenger actually admitted on Saturday evening that Jeff Davis was a Traitor This is something from a Copperhead orator We fear however Mr Stenger is hardly in full sympathy with his brethren in Adams He said that he was for negotiation, but if DAVIS would not agree to a Peace on the basis of a restored Union he was then for forcing him to terms

☞NOT A CHEER GREETED THE DECLARATION

Mr COFFROTH's position is more agreeable to our Copperheads He is for Peace without regard to terms and is willing to divide the Union and make us of the Border a frontier settlement between two Nations hating each other—He can't get other and better terms He does not deserve to have a single vote in the District—his policy is death to us

Reinforcement of our Armies

The most encouraging feature in the military position is the constant stream of reinforcements now going forward to our armies Every boat going down to Fortress Monroe, every train of cars going West to Sheridan carries forward recruits for different regiments and convalescents from the hospitals returning to duty In addition to these detached bodies Pennsylvania is sending forth a new host to do battle for the Union For several days past a regiment a day has departed from Harrisburg and going forward to the front—These regiments are all recruited to the maximum each a solid phalanx of one thousand men More than half of these men can be recognized as veterans who, after a brief furlough, are returning to the field and all are men of a good class They go forward in high spirits singing and cheering as they pass through the land From the North whence recruits are sent direct by transports a similar tide is pouring towards the front Not since the early days of the war have we seen the same evidences of the steady reinforcement of our armies

☞Our army in front of Petersburg on Friday met with quite a serious loss the Rebels having succeeded in capturing 2400 head of cattle A force of the enemy consisting of three brigades of cavalry and eight pieces of artillery made an attack on our cattle herds which was only guarded by two hundred or three hundred men of the 13th Pennsylvania cavalry, and carried off the cattle and the guard Several horses were also captured A division of cavalry were sent in pursuit of the Rebels but it was feared they had too much start A rumor prevailed at headquarters on Saturday morning that the cattle had all been captured, but it could not be traced to any reliable source The cattle would be of invaluable service to the Rebel army at the present time, as owing to the interruption of their means of communication they are in much need of provisions in Richmond and throughout Lee's army

☞An accident occurred on the Philadelphia Railroad about one mile this side of Havre de Grace, on Sunday, which came near causing the death of many passengers, among whom was Lieutenant Gen Grant, who was on his way to Baltimore The accident was caused by the engine of the passenger train running into a truck car ladened with cross ties demolishing the car and scattering the fragments over the road and the passenger train The collision was so violent that the front end of the boiler of the engine was knocked out The engine, after running for a half mile was stopped Had it left the track the result must have been most disastrous Fortunately, none of the passengers were injured

☞Every Copperhead organ now assails Mr Lincoln, because, as President through the will of the People, he prosecutes the war in execution of his official oath, and at the same time they urge the people to vote for a man as Mr Lincoln's successor, who helped to prosecute the war under Mr Lincoln as a volunteer

☞That a house divided against itself cannot stand is being verified by the acts of the "Peace" Democracy of New York, which is fast falling to pieces The difference of opinion in relation to the Chicago candidate for the Presidency has culminated into an open rupture among the Democrats of New York In their State Convention on Thursday the Tammany delegates from New York city were admitted to seats by a resolution of the Convention and the "Mozart" or Wood league, who also eat peace on any terms immediately seceded That the feud may long continue is the wish of every friend of the Administration The present incumbent of the Gubernatorial chair Horatio Seymour, President of the Chicago Convention, etc has been nominated The Chicago resolutions or platform was endorsed

☞George B McClellan in his letter accepting the nomination for the Presidency as a candidate of a party notoriously in sympathy with the rebel traitors, promises in the event of his election to restore economy to the management of the affairs of the nation In the face of this hypocritical pledge to catch the vote of ignorant people George B McClellan is receiving six thousand dollars a year from the Treasury of the nation without rendering any service therefor to the people Let George B McClellan resign and return the unearned money he has already taken from the Treasury before he talks of economy in the Government

☞The Richmond papers have been encouraging the broken hopes of the rebellion with assurances that General Grant's armies were being rapidly reduced by the return home of his soldiers They will be bitterly disappointed The tide has turned! It is now running toward Richmond in full irresistible volume Regiments are no longer coming this way They are now going forward with full ranks buoyant hopes and strengthened arms Our people have met the draft not with disloyal grumblings but with successful efforts to avoid it by volunteering Where these efforts have not been made the draft will be enforced and our armies reinforced to the full strength needed to suppress the rebellion Whilst others talk of peace, these men are the right means to render its coming sure and its duration lasting

☞A Washington correspondence telegraphs that "General Thomas Francis Meagher has returned from the Army of the Potomac and is ordered to Sherman—He declares that, although he respects McClellan for gentlemanly qualities his letter of acceptance stamps him as unfit for President Parties from the front report to day that an extraordinary change has been caused in the political sentiment of the army by McClellan's letter His feeble expressions have disgusted the soldiers"

☞Governor Johnson of Tennessee, has obtained the requisite authority and is raising twenty thousand men for the purpose of clearing Tennessee of predatory Rebel bands and guerillas They are to be mustered into the service of the State and the United States for a year unless sooner discharged, and will receive the same pay, rations, clothing, &c, that is paid to troops in the regular service

☞We are daily in receipt of letters from soldiers in the field and in hospitals expressive of their preferences as to the candidates for the Presidency They are nearly all unanimously in favor of Lincoln, McClellan receives a few votes, and Fremont now and then one In one of the hospitals in this State the wounded Rebel prisoners gave six votes for Lincoln and eighteen for McClellan

☞A military order has been issued from the Department at Washington forbidding the sale to soldiers of clothing of any kind The reason given is, that deserters have used the facilities thus afforded them to obtain disguises and thus elude detectives

☞Through an official bulletin of Secretary Stanton we have the views of Lieutenant General Grant and Major General William T Sherman, as to the propriety of immediately filling up our armies in the field Gen Grant says the whole number of men called for by the last proclamation of the President ought to be had in the shortest possible time, and that prompt action in filling up our armies will have more effect upon the enemy than a victory over them as they profess to believe that there is such a powerful "Peace" party in the North that the draft cannot be enforced, and deserters who reach our lines say that it is believed in the Rebel ranks that peace will be negotiated after the Presidential election Gen Grant concludes his letter with the remark that "The enforcement of the draft and prompt filling up of our armies will save the shedding of blood to an immense degree" Gen Sherman in a despatch from Atlanta is very glad to hear that the draft is to be enforced, because men are needed to fill up the old and tried regiments and because the enforcement of the law will manifest a power resident in the Government equal to the occasion—Our Government, though a democracy, should in time of trouble and danger, be able to wield the power of a great nation as well These letters will be interesting reading for gentlemen of the "Peace on any terms" persuasion particularly those who were delegates to the Chicago affair

☞An immense meeting was held in the Academy of Music Brooklyn on Wednesday evening, in ratification of the National and State Union nominations The splendid building was crowded in every corner The meeting was presided over by the Hon J S T Stranahan A ringing, clear and patriotic set of resolutions were proposed amid the repeated and deafening applause of the audience the spirit of the whole being "no compromise with traitors" and the "Union must and shall be preserved" and on being put to the meeting they were unanimously adopted The speakers were E E Williams Esq, of Westchester county Hon H J Raymond Professor Rankin a refugee from East Tennessee and Mr James Haggerty The decided, uncompromising Union sentiments of the different speakers met with the heartiest and most enthusiastic response from the audience all references to the President and soldiers and Generals in the field being greeted with tempests of the wildest applause

☞From our forces operating against Mobile the news is of the most cheering description Advices to the 4th inst state that one of the monitors and three of the gunboats of Admiral Farragut's fleet had successfully passed the Rebel obstructions in the harbor and were in line of battle three miles and a half from the city, having the city completely at their mercy It will be remembered that at last accounts Farragut was busily engaged in removing the Rebel torpedoes, etc, from the channel and no doubt an easy passage was effected to the position occupied by his vessels The Rebel rams and gunboats are reported as lying above Mobile out of the range of our guns The hull of the great Rebel ram Nashville has been destroyed by the gunboat Metacomet having been blown out of water at Dog river Bar
